

SPECIAL CLASS ASSEMBLY- GRADE III A – A REPORT

On Monday, 20th July 2026, the students of Grade III-A conducted a thought-provoking morning assembly on the theme "Every Step Matters" to commemorate International Chess Day. Drawing meaningful parallels between the game of chess and everyday life, the assembly encouraged students to reflect on the importance of making thoughtful choices, communicating with empathy, and understanding the impact of their actions.

The programme commenced with a warm welcome to all present. This was followed by a heartfelt prayer that invoked gratitude, wisdom, and kindness, reminding everyone to pause, reflect, and make responsible decisions in every aspect of life. The assembly continued with the presentation of international and national news, sports highlights, and the weather forecast, all delivered with confidence and clarity by the students.

The Word of the Day, 'Deliberation', encouraged the audience to think carefully before making decisions, while the Thought for the Day reinforced the idea that "A moment of reflection can prevent a lifetime of regret." The young orators then introduced the significance of the Sustainable Development Goal 17 – Partnerships for the Goals, highlighting how cooperation, mutual understanding, and collective responsibility contribute towards building stronger communities and a better future. They seamlessly connected this message with the significance of International Chess Day, explaining how every move in chess, much like every decision in life, carries consequences.

The highlight of the assembly was a compelling skit titled "Every Step Matters." Through the story of Samar and Bhavya, the students portrayed how impulsive reactions, poor communication, and assumptions can lead to misunderstandings, while patience, honesty, listening, and sincere apologies help restore relationships. The symbolic presence of the chessboard throughout the performance served as a powerful reminder that every move—whether on the board or in life—should be guided by thoughtfulness and wisdom.

The presentation was further enriched by a reflective poem that beautifully captured the essence of the theme, encouraging everyone to choose kindness, patience, and careful consideration in their daily lives. An interactive quiz followed, actively engaging students from different grades and reinforcing the key messages of the assembly through thoughtful questions and enthusiastic participation.

The assembly concluded with the National Anthem. Overall, the presentation was a meaningful blend of values, creativity, and student participation. It left the audience with an enduring message that every thoughtful choice, no matter how small, has the power to create a kinder, more understanding, and more responsible world.
